QUALITY ASSURANCE SURVEILLANCE PLAN (QASP)

Security Systems

I. Purpose:

The Quality Assurance Surveillance Plan (QASP) provides a systematic method to evaluate performance for the contract. The QASP explains the following:

- What will be monitored.
- How monitoring will take place.
- Who will conduct the monitoring.
- How monitoring efforts and results will be documented.

This QASP does not detail how the contractor accomplishes work. The contractor, not the government, is responsible for management and quality control actions to meet the terms of the contract. The role of the government is quality assurance to ensure contract standards are achieved.

II. Methods of QA Surveillance:

Government quality assurance personnel will inspect task performance by:

- Observing actual performance;
- Checking an attribute of the completed task;
- Reviewing applicable reports; and
- Inspecting the task results to determine whether or not the performance meets the performance standards.

Surveillance shall be in accordance with Attachment (A), Quality Assurance Surveillance Matrix. In all cases, surveillance shall not be so intrusive as to impact the contractor's successful accomplishment of the mission.

III. Frequency:

The COR will prepare and submit to the Contracting Officer a quarterly surveillance report. Out of cycle reports may be submitted in support of unacceptable performance identified during the performance period or when there is a significant change in performance that alters the assessment in one or more evaluation areas.

The Contracting Officer Representative (COR) and/or Contracting Officer will provide timely feedback to the contractor on unacceptable performance. Prompt feedback is essential so the contractor can develop and implement a corrective action plan.

IV. Performance Areas:

Quality: By monitoring the Contractor, the COR will determine whether the performance levels set forth in the contract have been attained. Quality levels for all tasks are specified in the QASP matrix, Attachment A. The COR will assess the Contractor's conformance to contract requirements, specifications and standards of workmanship (e.g. commonly accepted technical, professional, environmental, or safety and health standards).

Schedule: The COR will assess the timeliness of the Contractor against the completion of the contract, task orders, milestones, delivery schedules, and administrative requirements (e.g. efforts that contribute to or effect the schedule variance).

Business Relations: The COR will assess the integration and coordination of all activity needed to execute the contract, specifically the timeliness, completeness and quality of problem identification, corrective action plans, proposal submittals, the contractor's history of reasonable and cooperative behavior (to include timely identification of issues in controversy), and customer satisfaction.

Frequency: During performance of this contract, the COR or TPOC will conduct inspection of the all task order deliverables.

V. Possible Ratings:

- Exceptional. Indicates the performance clearly exceeds many of the contractual requirements and the excesses are beneficial to the Government. There are few minor problems for which the corrective actions are highly effective. Customer is completely satisfied.
- Very Good. Indicates the performance clearly exceeds some of the contractual requirements and the excesses are beneficial to the Government. There are some minor problems for which the corrective actions are effective. Customer is highly satisfied.
- Satisfactory. Indicates the performance clearly meets all of the contractual requirements. There are some minor problems for which the corrective actions are satisfactory. Customer is satisfied.
- Marginal. Indicates the performance does not meet some of the contractual requirements. There are serious problems but recovery is still possible. Corrective actions are marginally effective and/or not fully implemented.
- Unsatisfactory. Indicates the performance does not meet most of the contractual requirements. There are serious problems and recovery is not likely. Corrective actions are ineffective.

VI. Documentation.

Documentation used and referenced to perform surveillance will consist of technical reports, contractor plans and procedures, schedules, customer feedback and contract data and software requirements. During the course of the contract/task order, the COR retains a copy of all inspection schedules and surveillance activity logs. At the end of the surveillance period, the COR forwards a surveillance report for inclusion in the contract file.
